GOVERNORS OF THE OLD CONFEDERATION IN COUNCIL.

Preparations for Commemorating the Surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown---Another Centennial.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 18.—The assembly of Governors to arrange the details of the centennial anniversary of the surrender of the English army at Yorktown, met for organization this morning. Governors Andrews, Conn., Holliday, Va., Hoyt, Penn., Simpson, S. C., Jarvis, N. C., Hall, Del., Carroll, Md., and Col. Lincoln, representing Governor Talcot, of Massachusetts, were present. The address of welcome was responded to by Gov. Andrews, of Connecticut. Gov. Holliday, of Virginia, was chosen president of the meeting and Col. Lincoln secretary. The meeting then adjourned to Independence Hall.

On assembling in Independence Hall Mayor Stokley addressed the Governors, welcoming them to the city. Governor Carroll, of Maryland, replied. Governor Hoyt then extended the welcome in behalf of the State, to which Governor Holliday responded in a brilliant speech, frequently interrupted by applause. Governors Hall, Jarvis and Simpson and Colonel Lincoln also spoke in grateful terms of the reception they had received, and the opinion was freely expressed that the success of the Yorktown celebration would have a powerful tendency to bring about a unity of thought and feeling between the North and South.

Upon motion Governors Hoyt, Simpson and Holliday were appointed a committee on resolutions and the first named submitted the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That we, Governors and representatives of the original colonies, convened at Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, this 18th day of October, 1879, knowing that the purposes for which we have assembled meets the hearty approval of our constituents, do hereby commend to the people of the United States such celebration of the anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown as shall befit historical significance of that event and present greatness of our nation.

Resolved, That a committee of one from each State be nominated by the Governors thereof, of which committee Gov. Holliday shall be chairman, be appointed to make proper arrangements for such celebration.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Bittle Memorial Library.

SALEM, Va., October 18.—The formal opening of the Bittle Memorial Library building of Roanoke College took place yesterday with interesting exercises. The library building was named in memory of Rev. D. F. Bittle, D.D., first President of Roanoke College, and has a handsome gothic edifice sixty by thirty feet, and was erected by voluntary contributions of the friends of the institution. The Memorial Address was delivered by Professor S. C. Wells, of the faculty. Rev. C. P. Prauth, D.D., LL. D., vice provost of the University of Pennsylvania, delivered an address upon "The Library." At night the inauguration of Professor J. D. Dreher as the third president of Roanoke College, took place. During the intervals between the addresses the library building and cabinets were thrown open to the public, and visited by a large number of persons, when numerous donations were made to the Library as memorial offerings.

The Massachusetts Invasion.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—Among those who attended the banquet given by the Gate City Guards last night, were Governor Talbot and staff, Colonel R. M. Pulsifer, Mayor Prince, General Mendenhall, U. S. A., and other prominent gentlemen. The occasion was one of great magnificence. Captain Thomas, of the Boston Light Infantry, made the welcome address which was responded to by Captain Burke, of the Atlanta company. Several other speeches were made. The Gate City Guards were presented with a fine medal as a token of friendship by the Boston Light Infantry.

Moonshine.

GASTONIA, Oct. 17.—Revenue Agent O. H. Blocker, assisted by Deputy Collector Gyles, have unearthed gross frauds in Gaston county, N. C., carried on by registered grain distillers in collusion with government officers. Seizures of over five hundred gallons of corn whisky abstracted from the distilleries and secreted by the distillers have already been made, and revelations point to more important results. The plans of the ring have been exposed, and large seizures of spirits and important events may be looked for. The frauds, to a great extent, have been perpetrated through the sale and shipment of corn whisky in kegs, filled from unstamped packages. The citizens praise the the skill and conduct of the revenue officers who have discovered these startling frauds.

Yellow Fever Items.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 18.—10 A. M.—Five deaths since last night. Gus Lagoria, Van. A. W. Anderson, Jr., Madison Southal, Sarah Burns and Albert Echols, the last three were colored. The weather is clear and cool, the thermometer at daylight had fallen to fifty-one degrees.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 18.—Noon—Two new cases reported to board of health, viz: F. Salvador and Mrs. James Forrey.

No new cases of yellow fever have developed at Forest City, Arkansas, since yesterday noon. One death has occurred. Mrs. Wadis' daughter will probably die to-night. The other sick persons are doing very well. A Howard visitor from Memphis, and three nurses arrived there last night, and were immediately assigned to duty. A relief committee has been formed to care for the sick and bury the dead. Measures to prevent the spread of the disease have been placed in operation by the president of the local board of health and as representative of the National Board. The indications are generally more favorable to-day.

The Verdict.

DETROIT, Mich., October 18.—A coroner's jury has rendered a verdict, censuring the yard-master, switchman and engineer of the switch engine for their carelessness in the matter of the late railroad accident at Jackson. A change is recommended in the arrangement of the switch.

The Baldwin Outrages.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 18.—A special to the Chronicle from Sparta states that the accounts of the deeds of outlaws in the eastern portion of Baldwin county are greatly exaggerated, but truth reveals a bad state of affairs. There are about a dozen men in the band and the trouble is personal and not political. Outlaws have committed outrages on several persons. They burned the gin and cotton houses and fodder stacks of Dr. Robson for the purpose of drawing him out of his house in order to shoot him. They killed a negro man for reporting them to the grand jury of Baldwin county. They burned the tannery of Lake Robinson. They whipped a colored woman and her daughter in Hancock county. The gang have taken refuge in the swamps of Oconee and Ogeechee. The grand jury of Hancock county is now in session and have investigated the outrages and are determined to bring the perpetrators to justice. The people of Hancock county are armed and indignant at the outrages and express a determination not only to protect white and black from future outrage but to inflict summary justice on the perpetrators. Judge Pattle, the presiding judge, will vindicate the majesty of the law throughout his circuit.

The Mayville Race.

BOSTON, October 18.—Dr. Soule has addressed a letter to Courtney and Hanlan, stating that the money offered by his company was for the winner of a five-mile race, and for that reason declined the award to Hanlan, as he did not, by a competitive test, prove his superiority. The offer is renewed.

A Percussion Transaction.

MADISON, Oct. 18.—William Howard, ex-city treasurer, who was shot in an altercation with Major Simpson, editor of the Star Thursday night, died today. Simpson, who was out on bail, has been re-arrested, also John M. McFetridge, local editor of the Star, who is implicated in the affair.

The Fire Record.

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 18.—The shoe manufactory of D. H. Rickard & Company was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $35,000.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

The Grand International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are in session at Kansas City, Mo. The opening address yesterday was delivered by P. M. Arthur, Grand Chief Engineer. William Robinson, Second Chief Engineer, made a short address, mostly devoted to temperance. The session will last eight days.

In the Protestant Episcopal General Conference, in session in New York, yesterday, the question of "What is wanting to the successful evangelization of the colored people of the country" was discussed by the Rev. Dr. Lyman, Assistant Bishop of North Carolina, Rev. Dr. Alex. W. Weddell, of Richmond, Va., and Rev. Robert White, a Virginia missionary.

The south drift on the 2,300 feet level of the Sierra Nevada mine was inspected Friday by nearly a hundred experts, brokers and journalists, chiefly from San Francisco. The sides and fall of the drift show a body of very rich ore, samples of which assayed $323.30 to the ton, of which $137.50 was gold. The bulls are delighted, but the bears say the drift has been nicely fixed for inspection to enable the insiders to sell out their stock at high prices.

In the United States Circuit Court at Philadelphia, Friday, in the case of George W. Holloway and wife against the Pullman Palace Car Company, for damages for the death of their son by an accident to a Pullman car, Nov. 1, 1876, when several other persons were also killed; it was shown that the accident was caused by the breaking of a wheel, that the wheel was made of paper, and that all the wheels of the car were made of paper. It was claimed that wheels made of that material were unfit for use, and not as good as first-class chilled iron, and that therefore the company was guilty of gross negligence. Counsel for the company moved a nonsuit, on the ground that plaintiffs had failed to make out their case. The court granted the nonsuit. It is stated that a verdict, which would condemn the paper wheels, would involve the loss of over $1,000,000 to the Pullman Company alone.

BAD CHARACTERS.

Arrest of the Fisher Brothers for Abduction—Tom Johnson.

Wilmington Star.

Two notable characters were lodged in our county jail yesterday on a somewhat notable charge. These were the well-known Fisher brothers (colored), William and John, the former being charged with harboring and secreting the notorious Tom Johnson alias Alonzo Elri, and the latter with assisting in the abduction of the wife of Johnson and carrying her off; and also with putting her in fear of her life by pointing a gun at her through an open door at the time she was kidnapped at the house of a colored woman in Brooklyn some time last year. These men were arrested by Officer Carr on the affidavit of Johnson's wife. They will be remembered as the same two men who attempted to assassinate Mr. George Harper near this city, some few years ago. Johnson's wife, or widow, states that on the same night that she was abducted, she was carried to the house of William Fisher, on Eleventh, between Orange and Dock streets, where they kept her concealed in a sort of cave, where potatoes were kept, until the next night, when she was removed to another point.

At the latter place she and Johnson remained until the following Sunday, when was after the Sheriff's posse of fifty men had scoured the woods in the vicinity of Wilmington in a vain search for the outlaw and his companions, when they took their departure, and finally succeeded in making their way to Cheraw, S. C., where Johnson had a sister living. Here he soon afterwards got into a difficulty with his sister and attempted to kill her with an axe when she went for an officer to arrest him, but during her absence he took his wife and left for other quarters. Johnson's wife says her husband was killed about the middle of July.

The Fisher brothers were required to give a justified bond in the sum of $100 each for their appearance before Justice Gardner on Monday next, in default of which they were committed to jail, as before stated.

An old lady was seen wending her way, yesterday, down Plum street toward the depot, burdened with a valise and packages that seemed more than she could manage. A small specimen of a man passing her and going in the same direction, she called out: "Here, boy, won't you carry my package to the depot? I'll pay you." The young man stopped and looked at her curiously. He was not in that line of business, but seeing that she was a stranger and needed help, he kindly told her that he would assist her, though he did not want any pay for it. On the way the old lady told this story: She had come all the way from Vinton county to attend the Exposition, and she had brought some of her fancy work with her to show that country women were as smart as city bred ladies, even if they didn't wear as nice clothes. "But," said she, "they would not let me spread 'em out or show 'em any place. And I found out the reason why; I was smart enough for that. Two of the committee were Republicans and thought I was a Democrat, 'cause I come from Vinton and they wasn't fur wrong. I can kin stand it if they kin. I wouldn't deny my politics fur all their show. Would you, sonny?"—Cincinnati Gazette.

Religious News—The New Railroad—Preparing for a Raid on the "Moonshiners"—Etc., Etc.

RELIGIOUS NEWS.

Wilson Advance.

The revival which Rev. John N. Andrews has been carrying on at Battleboro closed Friday night. The result was that seventy-one persons joined the Methodist Church at that place. A collection was taken up for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum, and over twenty dollars were given. Several hundred dollars were raised to build a church; the pastor's salary, and the missionary and conference funds were also provided for. Mr. Andrews has many friends in Wilson who will be glad to learn of his success.

The annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this State convenes in this place December 3d. There are about two hundred and fifty preachers and delegates belonging to the Conference, and it is safe to estimate that about five hundred persons will be in Wilson at that time. Preparations are being made for their entertainment.

WORK ON THE RAILROAD.

Oxford Torchlight.

A visit to the railroad on Wednesday presented a busy scene and everything seemed to be progressing in the most satisfactory manner. There are now about ninety hands employed on this end of the line and the superintendents have reduced the work to such a system that every lick tells and there is no useless expenditure of labor at any point. It is understood that the convicts will commence active operations at the Henderson end next week. In connection with the work, we are requested to urge upon all those who have made subscriptions or agreed to take up bonds to pay at once. This is important and should be neglected no longer.

REVENUE RAIDERS.

Charlotte Observer.

In response to a request from Revenue Collector Mott, who visited Washington for the purpose, Commissioner Raum authorized him to employ a special force to look after illicit distilleries. On the 15th ultimo the Collector employed fifteen men and started them out to search for moonshiners and blockaders. The force was divided into two squads, one under charge of W. M. Walker and the other under Abe Bryan, armed as cavalrymen, and authorized to seize all distilleries operated without a license, unstamped tobacco and whisky. One squad will operate in the mountains, and the other in the piedmont section. One of the squads was in the city Friday and will branch out in some direction—whither, they propose that any moonshiner shall not know.

VALUABLE MINE.

Concord Register.

George W. Micheal has opened a gold mine on his place, about six miles east of Concord. It is known as the "Parker." We saw some samples of the ore that were picked up at the mine; they are rich in gold. The ore yields from twenty-five to fifty dollars per ton. The facilities for working the mine are good; water easy of access from creek and branches.

PROLIFIC COTTON.

Concord Register.

We have in our office a piece of a cotton stalk about four inches long, that has eight open bolls on it. They are large and well matured. They are out of the crop of C. W. Riley and A. Van Pelt, of Edmondsville, Rowan county. It is produced from seed brought from South Carolina two years ago to Union county, N. C. by William Cook, at a cost of five cents a seed. Riley and VanPelt have about two and a half acres of it, and they assure us it will average twenty-five bolls to the stalk all over the field. The ground was old field well prepared.

BUNCOMBE.

ASHEVILLE, Oct. 14.—The weather for some days has been quite warm, more so than is usual for the season.

Trade for the village is reported not quite as lively as usual, which can doubtless be attributed to the fact that Asheville appears in a large measure a deserted place, all the summer visitors gone and many of the villagers gone with them to Raleigh and other places. The place being so dull, your correspondent is dull too, and can consequently find but little to narrate worthy of note. One thing, however, in the way of a shocking accident, occurred in the eastern portion of this county on last Saturday, which you have doubtless heard of. It was in the way of a shooting affair: One High was shot by one Festus Cordell clean through, just below the heart, but at last accounts he was still living, though no hopes are entertained of his recovery. The cause of the affair is said to be an old feud.

The marriage register of the county shows quite a number of marriages as having occurred of late, and among them I am happy to report the following: Married, in Asheville, N. C., October 9th, Robert Havened to Miss Mary Williams, Rev. J. S. Burnett officiating, all of Buncombe county; and at Swannanoa, on the same date, was married Mr. Rufus Weaver to Miss Georgia Daugherty. To all parties we wish a joyous life, and, knowing the parties, for them such a life predict. Hope at no distant day to see recorded in your columns the marriage of some one, if it is possible to find one, nearer to me than either of them.

Agricultural incidents and interests I am not at present well acquainted with, but hear it intimated around that the corn crop of the county is going to fall far short of what was anticipated. The yield, it was thought a short while ago, would be very large.

The tobacco warehouse, which is to open in this place on the 5th of November, is approaching completion very fast under the management of Beaseley, Rankin & Co. It will be, when completed, quite a building. More anon.

CORRESPONDENT.

FRANKLIN.

FRANKLINTON, Oct. 17.—The North Carolina and Virginia Christian Conference will convene on the fifty-fourth annual session with the church at Christian Chapel, Chatham county, N. C., on Friday, November 14, 1879. The Annual Sermon will be preached by Rev. J. W. Holt, of Franklinton, N. C.

SECRETARY.

FRANKLIN.

LOUISBURG, Oct. 16.—Exceedingly dry and hot for the season of the year. Trade is quite brisk, and our merchants seem to be in fine spirits.

The several dockets for the fall term of our court, which opens on Monday, the 27th, number cases as follows: Civil issue docket, one hundred cases; criminal docket, thirty-two cases, and twenty-one on the summary. No capital cases.

I hear of a number of marriages to take place in town soon—one came off yesterday, Mr. Jordan Perry to Miss Ida May. A goodly number of our citizens are attending the Fair, and no doubt hey will enjoy themselves.

The Tar River Association of the Baptist Church held its annual session here, opening on Wednesday, the 8th, and closing Saturday, the 11th. There was a very large attendance, and it was a most successful and pleasant association. The next session will be held at Peach Tree Grove, in Nash county.

FORSYTHE.

WINSTON AND THE "NEWS" CORRESPONDENT.

WINSTON, Oct. 16.—In your issue of the 12th instant is a notice, in some respects full, of the great re-union of the Forsythe County Sunday Schools on the 8th instant, but which indicates a prejudicial feeling on the part of your correspondent. It is to be regretted that a citizen of Winston, interested in the honor and prosperity of the town, should allow sectarian and personal bias to affect his communications of public news, and to make your live paper a party to his purposes and thereby damage it. There were more than two persons who labored faithfully and successfully on the occasion in question, and not one of those or one or two denominations of Christians present, and taking part, would wish to bear off the honors of the day, or approve a suggestion that they had done so.

WINSTON.

GUILFORD.

GREENSBORO, Oct. 16.—Weather remarkably warm for the season, almost like midsummer and the dryest known for many years; the dust is deeper and more of it, literally lining stores, trees and houses. Wells are drying up.

Trade is greatly improved this fall, the stock of goods being large and varied.

Report gives to this town three marriages in the early future.

To-day Deputy Scott brought in the notorious Abe Gorrell (colored), who was in the penitentiary, sent to the Yadkin Valley Railroad, eastern end, and broke away. He found him last night in Rockingham county snugly stored away with nearly a dozen other negroes. He made a desperate effort to escape but the persuasive influence of shotguns and pistols was brought to bear upon him and he is now securely impaled within the stockade bedecked with a striped suit.

Federal court has been in session this two weeks and of its doings you have seen in the papers. My absence prevents my knowing many facts in the case.

One car load of Cincinnati buggies have been on the market this week and are selling cheap.

That venerable body, Orange Presbytery, is now in session at Old Alamance Church. Some twenty ministers and elders stopped with us last night. Saturday a historical address of that church will be delivered by Rev. C. H. Wiley, who was raised on the grounds, and I need not say it will be replete and full of interesting information, after which the new church will be dedicated.

A new paper (the Beacon) has been started here to-day in the interest of agriculture, etc., edited by J. W. Albright. It is a neat semi-weekly, $2.00 a year.

Quite a number of our people went to the fair.

FORSYTH.

WINSTON, Oct. 17.—The weather is still dry, but the prospects for rain are good. Trade is good and business lively. Many of our citizens are attending the Fair.

The Norwood property, consisting of a block of stores, a large dwelling, several vacant lots, all in the heart of the town, and a number of residences out in the suburbs, were sold yesterday. The stores were sold separately, the corner store brought $4,100, and was bought by Clarke & Ford, the present occupants. Another store brought $3,100, and was purchased by Major Brown. The dwelling brought $3,000, Dr. Hay being the purchaser. All the other lots brought a good price except Lashe's warehouse, which was bid in at $2,700.

The Berger Family, billed for this place this week, failed to come because of the temporary change of schedule.

Building operations here are progressing finely.

AN OLD PAPER.

A Record of the Commencement of the Century.

Concord Register.

We have before us a copy of the North Carolina Mercury, and Salisbury Advertiser, dated May 1, 1800. We found it in Colonel P. B. Means' office. It is a small folio, printed on coarse heavy paper, with old fashioned type. It contains much interesting matter that is now recorded in history, from which we make a few selections. Most prominent are the orders of General Bonaparte to General Kleber on turning over to him the command of the French army in Egypt, followed by a complaining letter of General Kleber, to the French directory, in which he says that General Bonaparte turned over to him an army destitute of clothing, commissary stores, money, powder or anything to make it effective. That it has been reduced by battle and disease to about eleven thousand men and that they were so debilitated that after the number reserved for garrison duty, he could not lead more than five thousand men against the enemy. General Bonaparte had not then reached the lofty pinnacle on the proud temple of fame that he mounted when he seized the scepter of imperial France. It contains some political items of importance in the United States. It was opposed to Mr. Adams for re-election for President, one of its reasons are that he inclined to a monarchical government. It was also opposed to Mr. Jefferson being elected President, giving as—one—reason because he is a deist, and disregards the Bible, and the Christian religion.

The paper was edited by Francis Coupee, and is marked Vol. 14; Number 104. It does not contain an item of local or State news. It announces the arrival, at Charleston, on the 17th of April, of the ship Messroon, also a proclamation of the Governor General of the Isle of France, announcing the troubles then existing between the Republics of France and the United States. It contains three horse, one legal and one administrator's advertisements. It makes an advertising note of the Salisbury races, to take place on the 16th and 17th of May, also an advertisement for the sale of the Rev. James McRee's funeral discourse in commemoration of the death of General Washington, and an advertisement of the sale of a house and lot in Salisbury, and some land out in the country. The price of the paper was two dollars a year, one half in advance, the balance at the end of six months, or one dollar and three quarters in advance.

Note—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good" and take nothing else but Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

COMING EVENTS.

AN IMMENSE INFLUX EXPECTED AT THE FAIR.

The Attractions Offered---Army Reunions--General Grant's Presence A Powerful Magnet.

WASHINGTON, Oct., 17.—The boom of good times has reached Washington, and it is anticipated that the coming winter season will be the most lively and most prosperous that has been experienced since the war. There has not for years, if ever, been such a demand for first-class houses by persons of culture and means from a distance, and difficulty is already experienced in supplying the applications. This indicates that society here is to have many valuable acquisitions. An immense influx of people from all parts of the country is anticipated during the ten days of the National Fair, which opens the latter part of the month. The attractions offered are so varied and extraordinary that thousands of citizens of contiguous and even remote States will be certain to take advantage of the opportunity to visit the capital. Shortly after the closing of the national fair the reunion of the Army of the Cumberland will take place in Washington, and the Thomas statue will be unveiled and placed in position on November 19, in the beautiful circle at the intersection of Massachusetts and Vermont avenues and Fourteenth and M streets.

The army of the Tennessee has its annual reunion in Chicago on the 13th of November, and a private letter received here says General Grant has promised to attend, and will arrive in Chicago on the 12th, and the understanding is that the Army of the Tennessee shall adjourn to meet in Washington with the Army of the Cumberland, and the hope and expectation is that General Grant will come with them, and the two organizations shall join in the ceremonies of dedicating the statue. This occasion will also attract an immense concourse to Washington. The ceremonies will be very impressive and elaborate, and the display, both military and civic, on an imposing and magnificent scale. The presence of General Grant alone will, it is thought, draw immensely. In less than two weeks after, Congress comes together for the long session, which will undoubtedly be prolonged until late in the ensuing summer. As the session will be the one immediately preceding the Presidential election, and as the situation is such as to presage a contest not excelled in spirit and vigor by any previous Presidential campaign, the debates in the halls of Congress will be directed to the same focus. Politicians in droves will be here to counsel and listen to the disputants, and many others will from time to time be on hand to witness the forensic combats. All this betokens the whirl of bustle, activity and excitement soon to set in and continue until past midsummer. All the principal hotels are improving and burnishing up, so as to be prepared for the good time coming.

THE LOUISIANA CAMPAIGN.

Information is here that the Republicans of Louisiana intend to nominate a full State ticket on a debt-paying platform. The candidate for Governor will be Mr. Beattie, long a prominent and influential business man in New Orleans, and a Kentuckian by birth. Louisiana will also lead off in the Grant boom for the Presidency, as the programme has been arranged to elect the delegates to the next national Republican convention by the State convention, which will meet in a few days. It had been supposed here that Secretary Sherman might have some strength, owing to the influence of the custom house and postoffice, but Warmoth and the other Republican leaders of influence are understood to be for Grant. Gov. Warmoth will probably run for Congress next year in the district represented by Randall Gibson.

It is said to be the purpose of the republicans to make a most active canvass, and they claim that they will get the votes of a great many conservatives who are opposed to repudiation. A republican ex-member of Congress from Louisiana said to Secretary Sherman to-day that if the republicans would spend as much money in Louisiana and send half as many speakers as they had in Ohio, Louisiana would go republican by a bigger majority than Ohio had just gone.

Mr. Barker's Picture.

"Your charge against Mr. Barker, the artist here," said the magistrate, "is assault and battery, I believe?" "Yes, sir." "And your name is ——" "Potts! I am art critic of the Weekly Spy." "State your case." "I called at Mr. Barker's studio upon his invitation to see his great picture, just finished, of 'George Washington cutting down the cherry tree with his hatchet.' Mr. Barker was expecting to sell it to Congress for fifty thousand dollars. He asked me what I thought of it, and after I had pointed out his mistake in making the handle of the hatchet twice as thick as the tree, and in turning the head of the hatchet around, so that George was cutting the tree down with the hammer end, I asked him why he foreshortened George's leg so as to make it look as if his left foot was upon the mountain on the other side of the river." "Did Mr. Barker take it kindly?" asked the justice. "Well, he looked a little glum—that's all. And then when I asked him why he put a guinea-pig up in the tree, and why he painted the guinea-pig with horns, he said that it was not a guinea-pig, but a cow; and that it was not in the tree, but in the background. Then I said that, if I had been painting George Washington, I should not have given him the complexion of a salmon-brick, I should not have given him two thumbs on each hand, and I should have tried not to slue his right eye around so that he could see around the back of his head to his left ear. And Barker said, 'Oh, wouldn't you?' Sarcastic, your Lonor. And I said, 'No, I wouldn't;' and I wouldn't have painted oak leaves on a cherry tree; and I wouldn't have the spectator in doubt as to whether the figure off by the woods was a factory chimney, or a steamboat, or George Washington's father taking a smoke." "Which was it?" asked the magistrate. "I don't know. Nobody will ever know. So Barker asked me what I'd advise him to do. And I told him I thought his best chance was to abandon the Washington idea, and to fix the thing up somehow to represent 'The Boy who stood on the Burning Deck.' I told him he might paint the grass red to represent the flames, and daub over the trees so's it would look like the mast, and pull George's foot to this side of the river so's it would rest somewhere on the burning deck, and maybe he might reconstruct that factory chimney, or whatever it was, and make it the captain, while he could arrange the guinea-pig to do for the captain's dog." "Did he agree?" "He said the idea didn't strike him. So then I suggested he might turn it into Columbus discovering America. Let George stand for Columbus and the tree be turned into a native, and the hatchet made to answer for a flag, while the mountains in the background would answer for the rolling billows of the ocean. He said he'd be hanged if it should. So I mentioned that it might perhaps pass for the execution of Mary Queen of Scots. Put George in black for the headsman, bend over the tree and put a frock on it for Mary, let the hatchet stand, and work in the guinea-pig and the factory chimney as mourners. Just as I had got the words out of my mouth, Barker knocked me clean through the picture. My head tore out Washington's near leg, and my right foot carried away about four miles of the river. We had it over and over on the floor for awhile, and finally Barker whipped. I am going to take the law of him in the interests of high art." So Barker was bound over, and Mr. Potts went down to the office of the Spy to write up his criticism.

The Colored People's Fair.

The following notes, relative to the exposition of the North Carolina Industrial Association (colored) are taken from the Journal of Industry, a paper published in this city and conducted by colored men:

In view of the great reduction which has taken place in everything, and also the financial pleasure now resting upon the people, the North Carolina Industrial Association has agreed to put the gate fees for adults down to thirty-five cents instead of fifty cents, and for children twenty cents instead of twenty-five cents, and for annual membership $1.25 instead of $3.00, that all who wish to may attend. This we regard as wisdom, and believe the people will show their appreciation of it, by attending in larger numbers on each day than they would at the usual rates.

The premium list has been delayed until now, so as to put as many of the donations in it as possible. As it will be seen in another column, the nearer the time for holding the Fair approaches the faster they come; but there being such a demand for it, we have been forced to go to press with the list, and as soon as we can get it from the printers, we will begin its distribution; so, friends, please be patient, and we will furnish you with it now in a few days.

The question has been frequently asked, whether persons outside of the State will be permitted to compete for premiums? In reply, we will say that they will not, except in certain instances, which will be given in the premium list. However, persons outside of the State will be permitted to exhibit articles. And those of an inventive character are especially solicited. We sincerely hope that our people from all sections will bring or send whatever they may have of a praise-worthy kind, to be put on exhibition, and thus let it be seen that they are up and doing, not only in the Old North State, but everywhere else.

The Story Told in Head Lines.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

Lost! Gone up the spout? The sutler greater than the soldier. The yard stick discounts the saber, and bayonets must rule ballots. So say the majority of the people of Ohio. Calico is king, and patriotism and valor go for naught. The national banks get away with the moneyless. Those fences are repaired, and the Sherman boom is booming.

Sabbath School Work.

To-day and to-morrow are to be observed by Sabbath school workers throughout the world as days for special concert of prayer for yet greater blessings to be poured out from on high on this great work that is now occupying so much of the attention of the Church of God in all lands. The hope of the State and Church is in the youth of the land. The schools of our city will no doubt duly observe the occasion.

They Didn't Want It.

The Charlotte Observer is not selfish by any means, as the subjoined will show:

"The team of the Hornet's Nest Riflemen which went to Raleigh to shoot for the champion flag returned yesterday morning. They didn't bring the flag back; it was heavy and inconvenient to carry, so they left it in Raleigh. Besides this they have had it a year, and not caring to monopolize it, or appear selfish about the thing, concluded to let the Raleigh Light Infantry have it. They took it down with an escort in uniform and turned it over gracefully."

City Amusements.

Raleigh, this past week, has certainly had its full share of attractions for the amusement-loving public. Metropolitan Hall has given audience to crowds who witnessed "Fatinitza," "Chimes of Normandy," "Pinafore," and "Trial by Jury," exceedingly well rendered by the Adah Richmond troupe

Tucker Hall has been under the management of Mr. John Templeton, who, with his well organized company, has equally well pleased the people, and on Friday and Saturday evenings brought the Berger troupe to bear witness that he was not a whit behind in the matter of enterprise, There is little use in lauding the merits of these rival companies, for good wishes attend them everywhere.

The Winding-Up Day.

The usual small crowd was present on the grounds of the State Agricultural Society yesterday, attending the same on its closing day.

The Fair this year has been a success, and the features thereof that attracted the crowd of the week were yesterday being removed. Auction and private sales during the day was the principal feature.

The display of apples, etc., as made by Capt, Nat. Atkinson and G. K. Faust, was very fine.

Runaway Accident.

Yesterday afternoon the Rev. Bennett Smedes, principal of St. Mary's, was riding with his wife, and when a short distance from the city his vehicle was run into by a heavy truck, completely wrecking it, throwing its occupants out and occasioning severe injury to Mrs. Smedes. The lady was conveyed to her home, and Dr. Hines was called to attend to her needs. How badly she was injured had not transpired at the hour of going to press.

Good Management.

It is gratifying to note that notwithstanding all the extra trains that have been run to and from our city during the past week of the Fair, not a single accident or detention of any kind has occurred. This is evidence of the good management and system of those having charge of our roads.

Hiram Lodge, No. 40, A. F. & A. M., will hold its regular communication to-morrow night, at the usual hour. Business of importance to be transacted. Prompt attention of members required.

The funeral of the late Henry C. Carey took place in Philadelphia yesterday, attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the venerable political economist. Rev. Henry J. Morton, of St. Peter's P. E. Church, conducted the religious services at the house, after which the remains were taken by special train to Burlington, N. J., for interment.

IMITATION JEWELRY.

"RICH AND RARE WERE THE GEMS SHE WORE!"

How Young Bloods and Dainty Maids Bedeck Themselves With Jewelry at a Discount.

Boston Transcript.

Some of the imitations are admirable, it must be owned. A gold watch case 18 carats fine costs $50; another, 14 carats fine, can be bought for half the money; and a third, four carats fine, for $10; and nothing but comparison reveals any difference between the three to inexperienced eyes. Bracelets in gold plate finished in a dozen different ways, burnished, fretted or faceted, cost less than those of real tortoise shell, and would deceive anybody when worn. Lace pins, cuff pins, rings and earrings are made at Attleboro, in Providence and New York, in the same patterns used by the best jewelers; and, although not so well finished in minor details, have no imperfections that can reveal themselves to ordinary inspection. Until very lately it was impossible to make the variegated leaves used on lace in anything but good gold, but they are now produced in cheap alloys, and a method has been discovered for applying enamel to inferior gold.

In many cases, the stones used in the cheap sets are real; fine mosaics, amethysts of great clearness, and excellent onyxes being set in gold of a quality so poor that a whole set costs very little. In other cases even the stones are false, and one can buy a set of what seem to be initial onyx sleeve buttons, set in gold, for less than it would cost to cut the stones if they were real. Second quality onyx, having the upper layer of uneven thickness, is used in some of the cheap seals, and in others a bloodstone is placed on one side and a bit of glass on the other. The seller who means to cheat is enthusiastic over the beauties of the real bloodstone, and the innocent buyer does not think to ask about the glass. Still another deceit is seen in large seals of pressed glass, apparently cut elaborately, but really representing no more work than a pressed glass tumbler; a microscope would betray this cheat at once, but ordinary buyers do not go about armed with microscopes, and do not wish to be obliged to do so. Diamond pins with solid backs are of doubtful perfection always, but some of the new pins have a bit of silver foil set behind the fragment of glittering glass that serves for a stone, and are more deceptive than the dull stones worn by some men who seem to think that they will be respected if they appear to have spent three years' salary on an ornament.

As has been said, there is no way of distinguishing between good and cheap jewelry when worn, but there are a few details to which buyers should look sharply, unless they have perfect confidence in the house with which they are dealing. Watch cases usually have the name of the firm selling them engraved on the inside, unless they are of poor quality. Good bracelets are as well finished close to the hinges as anywhere else. Fine brooches have good strong pins on the wrong side. Engraved or tooled surfaces are more deeply indented in good jewelry than in that which is plated, and burnished surfaces on cheap goods are likely to be scratched, because they are more carelessly kept than those which are more expensive. There is a very slight difference in the color of the two classes of jewelry, but it only reveals itself on comparison. Large size is a danger signal in earrings, and false diamonds ought to warn anybody from buying their setting.

The demand for the cheap jewelry increases almost daily; many of the new styles being so fantastic that even those who are determined to wear them hesitate about paying much for them, purchase them in cheap materials and throw them away when tarnished. This course is expensive, but if a man or woman can afford it nobody is injured by it except the person who yields to the desire to assume the appearance of wealth that he has not. But nobody wants to be cheated, and he who buys cheap jewelry of irresponsible persons is tolerably sure to waste his money.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough."—B., Rochester, N. Y. See other column.

Impression.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that Dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that Green's August Flower has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, &c. Out of the 50,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all druggists.

DAILY NEWS

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1879.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE Oxford Torchlight should remember that the NEWS has been consistent with sound Democratic doctrine all the time. "Of the People and for the People," is our creed, and this without playing into the hands of any demagogue. Willful misrepresentations have gone abroad, and we are glad to see that those who inadvertently have taken up the cry against the NEWS are willing to lend their aid to correct the false impression.

THE present skirmish with the Utes in Colorado has instituted an investigation into the cost of the Indian Department of to-day, as compared with ante bellum Democratic times. There are fewer Indians now than there were then. Small-pox, whisky, civilization and post traders have been too much for poor Lo, and he has faded away before the advance of the pale faces. Yet in 1861 our Indian expenses were only $2,865,481, or about $9 an Indian, while to-day they are $7,061,618, or $30 an Indian. During the past forty years, since the Federal Government took control of our aborigines, no less a sum that $181,300,000 has been expended on them, without benefit to either race, the white or the red, and has produced only massacres of the settlers and troops, to be quickly followed by the slaughter of the Indians.

A PECULIAR decision has just been rendered by the Judges of the Court of Appeals in Kentucky. The case of Colonel Tom Buford, convicted of the murder of one of their colleagues, came up before them the other day on appeal. After mature consideration the court decided that its members could not sit on the case, they having a personal interest in it. It therefore becomes necessary for Gov. Blackburn to order a special court to determine the appeal. Many of the Kentucky lawyers argue that the judges had no such personal interest in the case as would debar them from sitting; others that they had no personal interest whatever in the intendments of the law, and others still that they took the only right and proper course in refusing to sit. Perhaps it is the only instance on record where an entire supreme court recused itself.

AND even Northern malignants fail to make much impression on the colored people of this State. The "exodus movement" doesn't bubble to any extent, as may be seen by the subjoined paragraph copied from the organ of the race in North Carolina, the Journal of Industry:

The exodus fever has broken out in several localities in this State, but we do not think that it will become an epidemic as in other sections. A hegira is anticipated by some, as soon as the crops are off, but we can see no indications of any such thing. A friend now living in Texas and formerly from New York, in writing to us says that North Carolina is the best State in the Union for the colored man and he has an idea of coming here to live. And this is not simply an individual, but it is the prevailing opinion among all who know anything of her.

HAVING failed to frighten its readers by stories of impending "Southern Rebellion" and negro killing; having failed in its atrocious charges of dishonesty made against the Southern people, the New York Tribune has again fallen back upon the old "Southern claims" war cry, which was worn out last year, and which the more it is used, is the more distinctly recognized as vox et præterea nihil. The Tribune has added some hundreds of millions to its former Southern claims statement, and now declares the aggregate to be $1,287,524,735—a large portion of which it declares is demanded in payment for slaves set free by the Emancipation Proclamation. This assertion deserves no notice save as a fair specimen of the reckless mendacity of our desperate Republican fellow-citizens, who, although very sharp and cunning, have never exhibited any discretion in the art of lying. They invariably overdo the matter and make themselves supremely ridiculous, as in the case cited Perhaps the Tribune had better put "Southern claims" at the modest sum of $100,000,000,000 and then give the items and date and number of the bills.

BLACKMAIL.

Through the busy days of the Fair Week many articles of general interest occurring throughout the State have been given merely a passing notice But even at this late day some things should receive editorial mention.

Some few weeks since a scamp named Williamson forwarded through the mails postal cards addressed to ladies whose reputation had never been impeached. There is no use heaping indignant epithets on such a villain They are of no avail. The strong arm of the law should take its course. We can well understand why young ladies of refinement, of modest maidenly instincts, should wish to decline an appearance in court where their sensibilities might be touched to the quick, in order to prosecute an offender guilty of a crime of this infamous nature. But they should remember that to render secure protection to their sex such appearances are necessary. In some cases—and these often give tone to others—the suspicion that there may be something at the bottom of these innuendoes is not allayed.

We do not desire our remarks to be misconstrued; the reputation of the ladies assailed by Williamson is like that of Cæsar's wife. What we wish is to give out a warning

Many scamps like Williamson trade on their knowledge of human nature. They know that many an innocent girl would give all she possessed rather than should go abroad an imputation on her chastity. And they also know that there is scarcely anything more repugnant to a woman than to arise in an open court of justice to defend her honor, if it can possibly be avoided.

But prompt action has become an imperative necessity. When a woman, be she wife or maiden, receives missives of this nature, she should refer them to her natural protector and invoke the aid of the courts in behalf of herself and her sex and have the leech who undertakes to prey upon her summarily punished.

We compliment the young ladies in the case referred to for exposing the affair, but at the same time we must say that a compromise of this offense was decidedly wrong, and the United States authorities should never have acceded to the proposition.

THE CLOSE OF THE FAIR.

On yesterday, the Nineteenth Annual Fair of the North Carolina Agricultural Society came to a close. It has proven the most successful one yet attempted. From a small beginning the Society has attained to an importance that can scarcely be realized or understood by the general public.

At this late day there is little need of stating the reasons that led to the formation of the Society—suffice it to say that in September of 1852 the first exhibition was made by the Public and given to the Public, through the efforts of those who most earnestly wished for the advancement of the Old North State. Through all its trials and tribulations the Society kept up a stout heart. Many of the counties were sparsely populated. Traveling and transportation facilities were meager. The people had not been educated up to the point of realizing what their efforts, placed in conjunction, were capable of. In short, the project was little understood, and natural causes stood in the way of success.

The enterprise went swimmingly on; State aid was rendered to a certain extent, but not sufficient to carry it through financially unhampered. Obligations were contracted, and it was supposed that a near future would see them recognized and met at maturity. But the "little onpleasantness" interfered with the plans, and it was not until the war was ended that the annual meetings and exhibits were again resumed.

We have not the time and space to recount the effects of post-bellum proceedings. In 1872 occurred the election of Col. Thos. M. Holt as President of the Society. This gentleman threw his whole energy into the work. He introduced needed reforms. A new site for the holding of annual exhibitions had already been chosen; improvements had already been commenced under the presidency of the Hon. Kemp P. Battle, and then this gentleman gave way to his younger successor to carry out the plans. And it has been done.

In 1876 the prospects of the existence of the Society were not promising. The Fair was prophesied a failure on account of the Centennial at Philadelphia, for it was presumed that the large amount of donations that went to swell the premium list would be diverted from their usual channel; but the surmises were wrong. The Fair of 1876 was a success. It went ahead of previous ones; it paid all expenses and rendered a good amount to be applied to previous indebtedness. And from that day to this it has prospered. Old obligations have been met, and to-day the Association and its work has more friends than ever before.

In this last exhibit eighty-two counties of the ninety-four were well represented. There was no end of Carolina's products; from the raw grain throughout the various processes of rendering them suitable for the table—from man's planting to woman's baking; the fruits of the State were rendered in their natural shape and in their preserved form; the animal production of wool was ranged by the side of its vegetable counterpart, cotton; and throughout the large hall the sturdy and the cunning efforts of North Carolina's laborers and her artisans, male and female, were displayed to good effect.

It is not the intrinsic value of the premiums that incite the efforts of our people. A proper recognition of their labors is the reward they seek. It is a healthy pride and one that does them honor, and the various premiums awarded are extrinsic in their value compared with the fact of their award. But these lists are small in their promises. Thousands of dollars are yearly paid out in premiums, and the only regret felt is that it is impossible to make them larger at present.

This work of conducting the operations of the Society is no light affair. Few really appreciate the immense amount of labor attaching thereto. For the past four years Capt. C. B. Denson has been chosen to fulfill the duties, and he has most admirably succeeded in his efforts. And each and every one connected with the management are deserving of especial mention, and they will receive it in the review that is to follow in these columns as soon as a fair statement can be rendered.

Undoubtedly Right.

Philadelphia Times.

The first thought that rises, in view of the derangement of the Hanlan-Courtney race, is that the boat-racing people, like the walking people, are doing what they can to bring their business into contempt. Mr. Courtney's heart may be bowed down with weight of woe, because his boat was cut in two and he was unable to row yesterday, but he will find it difficult to convince the ten thousand people who went to see the race and had to go home without having any fun and out of pocket, that somebody very close to him was not privy to the foul means by which the race was prevented. He lost his last race in a way that left him a subject of suspicion, and in near view of this one the odds were heavily against him. The dispatches, however, so far, give no reason to believe that he has played false, and that his opponent, who had no fear of him, instigated the tampering with the boat is beyond the bounds of probability. We are more inclined to the belief that some of the shrewd Mayvillers were guilty of the trick in order to prolong their period of spoliation. The people of that quiet town never had such an opportunity of making money, and the reports of the last few days showed that they were making the most of it without much regard to the wear and tear of conscience. There were room and victuals in the village for only one-fifth of the people who came to see the race, and an enormous rise in prices was inevitable. As early as Tuesday ten dollars a day for lodging, without meals, was demanded by these simple-minded country folks and everything to eat and drink was proportionately high. It is more than likely that a desire to keep up this era of prosperity by a postponement of the race was at the bottom of Courtney's mishap. This is, at any rate, a theory more charitable than that the American champion himself had anything to do with the dirty trick.

Lamar Comes Out for Bayard.

Vicksburg Dispatch in N. Y. Herald.

Senator Lamar expresses himself as decidedly in favor of all internal improvements likely to benefit the South. Touching the Presidential question, he strongly favors Senator Bayard, of Delaware. Through such a source only does he hope for a vindication of Republican principles. He deplores the Yazoo affair.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wilder, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often."

"Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy. I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars' worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time."

"Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

Book Notice.

The J. B. Burr Publishing Co., of Hartford, have just issued an interesting volume, "Sunshine and Shadow in New York. The name of the author, the world renowned "Burleigh," is sufficient guarantee of the litterary merits of the work. It is truly an able expose of life in the great city; from the millionaire in his palace to the most impecunious wretch in his squalid underground den; from the ablest divine to the vilest sinner; gilt-edged vice and loathsome sin; the sharpers who play upon the credulity of honest people and the detective who brings them up in turn, and the "bulls" and "bears," of Wall street are not left out. No phase of city life is omitted. It contains more than eight hundred pages, and certainly presents the lights and shades of New York in a graphic and attractive manner. Representative men are are selected from all classes of society, thereby making the exhibit characteristic and full.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER—Gentlemen: Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, very great, comfort I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum,

For months I would be helpless,—my very life a burden to me.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both external and internal, but with no effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it, and lo! it was as if a miracle had been performed, for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a new-born babe's.

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some one similarly afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very thankfully,
A. D. BAKER, Ticket Agent C. S. R. R.

Tetter or Salt Rheum

On the hands cured. A greatful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER—Gentlemen:—Having been troubled for many years with the Tetter or Salt Rheum, I spent many a hard-earned dollar. I was given a trial of your CUTICURA, and, thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

You may put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well known here, having lived here almost fifteen years and kept boarders for a living, and sometimes my heart was sore, thinking I would have to give up altogether with my sore hands, and having a small family to take care of; but oh! thank God, my hands are well, so I again return thanks.

Yours respectfully,
ELIZABETH BUKLEY.
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS

The genuine MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. MCLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

Why, Take it Again.

What a rout do you make for a single sweet kiss!
I seized it, 'tis true, and ne'er shall repeat it;
May he ne'er enjoy one who shall think 'twas amiss,
But for me, I thank dear Cythera, who sent it.

You may pout and look prettily cross, but I pray,
What business so near to my lips had your cheek?
If you will put temptations pat in one's way,
Saints resist if you can; but for me I'm too weak.

But come, dearest Delia, our quarrel let's end;
Nor will I by force, what you gave not, retain;
By allowing the kiss I'm forever your friend;
If you say that I stole it—why take it again.

—Horace Walpole.

A gentleman who was asked for his marriage certificate quietly took his hat off and pointed to a bald spot. The evidence was conclusive.

Mrs. Shoddy lately puckered up her mouth genteelly, and told a gentleman friend that one of her lovely daughters is a 'blunett,' and the other a 'bronze.'

Art criticism: John (who has been admiring a chromo)—"Does it look natural, Sarah—"Looks like an oil painting close to, don't it—all daub, you know."

"Woman is a delusion, madam," exclaimed a crusty old bachelor to a witty young lady. "And man is always hugging some delusion or other," was the quick retort.

"John." "Yes, dear." "Where is my vinaigrette?" "I think you left it on the bureau, my love." "There! that's just like you; you're always forgetting everything I've got to carry."—Cincinnati Times.

A lazy man, says the Yonkers Gazette, having a wife named Hope, whose custom it was to pull off her husband's boots every evening, was wont to exclaim on such occasions, "How truly it is said that 'Hope is the yanker of the sole.'"

One of the finest compliments ever paid to a woman was that of Steele, when he said of Lady Hastings, "that to have loved her was a liberal education." Viewed in this light, woman is an educator in the highest sense, because she educates humanely and lovingly.

Two artists in conversation: "He's going to marry Mlle. T.?" "Yes." "Is she rich?" "No." "Pretty?" "Scarcely—why, she writes!" "That's no reason why she shouldn't be pretty." "Yes, it is, though, generally speaking. Women, my dear boy, never put on blue stockings until there is no longer any curiosity to know the color of their garters."

I see how it is. Woman is now supreme in the house. She will gradually control everything. Woman is one of the ablest and most cunning creatures who have ever mingled in human affairs. I understand those who say they don't want the ballot. They want the power without the responsibility; so while we are being amused with the ballot, woman is quietly taking things into her own hands.—C. D. Warner.

Love in woman is no trifling emotion. On its joyous side it seeks affinity with every phase of nature that is gladsome and of promise. When one thoughtfully considers the part which love has in the destiny and character of woman, the issues that come out of it for her weal or misery, her ruin or perfection, nothing is more pathetic, and death itself is not more solemn.—Henry Giles.

A Berlin genius has invented an instrument for turning over the leaves of music. The Berlin man is a presumptuous meddler. If this machine should come into general use, what disposition could be made of the average young man in high shirt-collar and hair parted in the middle who at evening social gatherings stands up at the end of the piano and turns over the music for the lady performer? He appears fit for no other purpose under the sun.

They were courting: "What makes the stars so dim to-night?" she said softly: "Your eyes are so much brighter," he whispered, pressing her little hand. They are married now: "I wonder how many telegraph poles it would take to reach from here to the stars," she remarked musingly. One if it was long enough," he growled. "Why don't you talk common sense?"—Rockland Courier.

The round yellow pumpkin that the housewife has in her eye for a nice batch of inch and a half deep pies with under crust as brown as a berry doesn't always show up when cooking day comes round; but down behind the garden gate at the first approach of darkness she can see a fiendish face all aglow with fire. That's her favorite pumpkin and the only wax candle she had is inside of it.—New Haven Register.

A Yorkshire trainer lately revealed his method of meeting a conjugal storm. His plan, he said, was to keep silence and nod his acquiescence to everything, no matter what was said by his spouse. "Yes," remarked one of his friends, "but then she has it all her own way." "Just so," replied the tyke, with satisfaction; "and nothing annoys her so much. There is nothing women hate like a walk-over."

A BUDGET OF WISDOM.

"Agrikler," an English Hosea Bigelow, who writes in the western country dialect, says:

Noa man es wise athout a wife—that's true and not no viction,
Vor the very peth of wisdom es got at by contradiction,
And that's one raison why I beant so wise as Zolomon,
Becas thay zay he'd lots 'o wives, and I got only one;
But, spite 'o Zolomon's example, miake one wife suffize,
Vor tiaint by no means eithy to be moor than common wise.

When girls midway in their teens throw off their natural girlish habits and attire, don long skirts, scoot up their hair and affect the airs and dress o' young women, they would often be surprised to know what their elders really think of their improvements. One such young miss went to the depot recently to meet an aged friend of the family, and was surprised to find herself not recognized on greeting the visitor as she stepped from the cars. "Don't you know me, auntie?" "Why, this isn't Maria, is it?" "Certainly; don't you think I look better than I did last summer when you were here?" "No," replied the honest soul, looking the girl over, "to tell you the truth, I don't. Go home and be young while you can for it will not be many years before you will be glad to have people take you for a girl."—Springfield Republican.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A
TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulder-blade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine.

IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says:
"After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says:
"I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

MILLS, &c.

By virtue of a deed of trust executed to me by M. McGhee and wife, of Person county, N. C., and registered in the Register's books of said county, book W, page 270, &c., I will sell, at public auction, on the 3d day of November next, upon the premises, the following property:

1st. A large and valuable Mill, 40x50 feet and four stories high. It has two Corn Mills and two Wheat Mills, driven by one turbine and two overshot wheels. Its capacity for storing wheat is from six to seven thousand bushels. There is a Saw Mill, Cotton Gin, Miller's House and Workshop attached.

2d. A new Store House, 26x40 feet, and Lot connected there with, upon which Lot there is a Lumber House and Blacksmith shop.

3d. The Land known as the Woodburn Tract consisting of some 1,200 acres. The Land is divided into convenient tracts all well watered, and having a due proportion of wood. To each tract but one there is attached a body of excellent low grounds, and upon all but one there are buildings, some of them very valuable. A survey of each tract will be exhibited on day of sale, and the lands shown together with the surveys, to any person making application to the undersigned at any time before the day of sale.

4th. A valuable Library.

5th. The crops of corn, wheat, tobacco, fodder and oats. Also, Teams and Plantation Implements.

TERMS—The Real Estate upon the terms of one-third cash, one-third in one year and one-third in two years, with interest on the deferred payments from the day of sale until paid, and the other property and effects for cash.

[Pastors of the various churches are requested to hand in their notices every Saturday morning.]

LOCAL BRIEFS.

O! the weather.

——Few city notes.

——"You'll never miss the water till the well runs dry."

——Go to church to-day; the pulpits will all be ably occupied.

——Some especial mention will be made next week of exhibits at the Fair.

——All the strangers are preparing to leave us, except The. Dust; but then he's no stranger.

——The Yarborough turned away over two hundred applicants for accommodations Thursday.

—— Last week was a harvest for landlords. There were more attendants at the State Fair than ever before.

——A lad named Robert Lee made a miss-go the other night while practicing at the skating rink, and broke his arm.

——The photograph of General Hood's children can be seen at the drug store of Pescud & Lee, corner of Fayetteville and Martin streets.

——The little son of Geo. Dichtl died day before yesterday, and the funeral took place from the father's residence yesterday.

——The fox-chase at the Fair grounds yesterday did not come off. Reason—the fox hadn't signed the contract, or some other trouble, perhaps gate receipts: anyhow he declined to be chased.

——Prof. Rogers with his ever laughable Punch and Judy show, in connection with the two inimitable clowns, the Bliss Brothers, entertained a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen last night at their show room in the Beckwith House.

——The Fair is over, and the only thing which agitates the mind of the Raleigh public is the publication of Emerson & Co.'s Directory. The canvass is nearly completed, and the copy will be put into the hands of the printer this week. *

——The National Hotel was crowded to the utmost throughout the week. With the proposed extension, next year this house will furnish shelter to the unfortunates that place their dependence on the Fair for a holiday.

——A new style of 'possum hunting has been brought in vogue. A gentleman living near the Raleigh & Gaston depot had four of the "critters" penned up for future consideration, and they were borrowed together with a lot of chickens. 'Possum fat in that family will be scarce.

Business Removal.

I would respectfully announce to my friends and customers that I have moved my place of business and am now occupying the stand, No. 2 Martin street, one door east of Fayetteville street, where I am better prepared to serve the public in my profession.

Talks About the Fair.

The grand opening at Brewster's Hardware Establishment eclipsed all the exhibitions we ever saw. Fair goods at Fair prices. Fair dealings with Fair customers—that's Fair enough for the hardest-to-please mortal on the face of the globe. Of a verity whatsoever things are of good report, those things can be found at Brewster's.

Now Ready.

Fall styles soft and stiff hats, all qualities, at the lowest prices in the city. R. B. Andrews & Co., Clothiers and Hatters. *

The Patapsco Baking Powder

stands higher for purity, healthfulness and excellence than any brand in America, and is more highly endorsed by the chemical and medical profession, consequently there is more of it sold than any three others combined.

Talbott & Sons,

of Shokor Machine Works, Richmond, Virginia, have two magnificent steam agricultural engines on exhibition at the Fair grounds. This firm is too well known throughout the South to require praise at our hands. Their engines are extensively used all over North Carolina, and give entire satisfaction. They always bear off premiums at the State Fairs in the South. Their patent spark arrester is a great improvement, and where used, from the safety given from fire, insurance companies carry the risk at greatly reduced rates. *

The Mile-End cotton sold by Yeargan, Petty & Co., wrapped on black spools, is manufactured by Messrs. John Clark, Jr., & Co., of Glasgow, Scotland, who employ over 2,000 persons in making this one article. Few who look upon a spool of thread are aware of the capital, skill and enterprise necessary for its production,

What do you think?

"Mrs. Jones, my old man is going to the Fair, and I've made him promise to buy me one of those elegant Cook Stoves from Brewster. Mrs. Brown has one, and its just delightful. I'm going to send for some cake pans, too; Brewster has some elegant ones, and just as cheap as can be. You ought to see those sweet little puff pans Mrs. Smith got from Brewster; they are just lovely!"

VEST POCKET CURE

25 DYSPEPSIA 25

CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C, Iconcur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D., Col. Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B F. Woodward P. E., Na. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by

Rosadalis

THE GREAT SOUTHERN remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scrofulous Taint, Rheumatism, White Swelling Gout, Goitre, Consumption, Bronchitis, Nervous debility and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the Blood.

The merits of this valuable preparation are so well known that a passing notice is but necessary to remind the readers of this journal of the necessity of always having a bottle of this medicine among their stock of family necessities

Certificates can be presented from many leading Physicians Minister, and heads of families throughout the South, endorsing in the highest terms The Fluid Extract of Rosadalis.

DR. R. WILLIAM CARR, of Baltimore says he has used it in cases of Scrofula and many other diseases with much satisfaction.

DR. T. C. PUGH, of Baltimore, recommends it to all persons suffering with diseased Blood, saying it is superior to any preparation he has ever used

REV DABNEY BALL, of the Baltimore M. E. Conference South, says he is so much benefited by its use that he cheerfully recommends it to all his friends and acquaintances.

CRAVEN & CO., Druggists, of Gordonsville, Va., says it never has failed to give satisfaction.

Samuel G. McFadden, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, says it cured him of Rheumatism when all else failed.

Rosadalis is not a secret quack preparation, its ingredients are published on every package. Show it to your Physician and he will tell you it is composed of the strongest alteratives that exist, and is an excellent blood purifier. Did our space admit we could give you testimonials from every State in the South and from persons known to every man, woman and child either personally or by reputation.
